Characteristics of chakras

It is in simplicity and humbleness where great values of life remain.

Dedication

To the person who dreams and flies with me: my husband Dante.

To my two wings, my children: Santiago and Matthew.

To my parents, Guillermo and Rosalbina, who gave me everything, from life to the values I now chose to base my life on.

To my brother Juan Guillermo and my sister Luz Karime, my accomplices.

Appreciation

To the Creator and my angels; I offer it as a testimony; I asked them and here it is, now came true.

To my spiritual guides: María Sedano, thanks for your light, for showing me the way without impositions, and for supporting and guiding me through angelic initiations.

To Shairy Quimbo: for the strength, disposition and patience, and for having shared with me part of the great wisdom.

To María Elena Nuñez; fengshui has been essential for me to finish Angelic Textbook. Thanks for filling me with positive thoughts and that joy, which identifies you, and for being ready to celebrate.

To my husband, who listened while I read the book more than five times; for smiling always; for his understanding; and for replacing me when I was not there.

To my sister, Luz Karime; even though she laughs at my ideas, she supports me and dreams.

To my friend in this life and other lives, Dr. Sonia Carvajal: thanks for being a great example of persistence; do not worry, I am on the way back already.

To my friend, Jair Duque: thanks for going with me to the photo studio, and for having time and willingness to listen everything I come up with every second.

To all those people who came into my life, because one way or another they have accomplished their mission and have been part of my way and spiritual development.

Introduction

Angels are not a trend, they have always existed. What happens is that the man is hungry and thirsty; hunger of word and thirst of spirituality.

Angelic textbook is simply the book I would have wanted to find.

With this book you can learn the basics and the meaning of the elements we use when it comes to a ritual, or simply thank, or ask for something.

The main objective is that people looking for this knowledge, this way, understand why things are done like this; why mantras and mudras are said; to know the difference between ceremony and ritual; and the basics. Thus, they can turn to the angels and the universe as they want, in a conscious manner, not just because they saw someone doing it.

Sentences can be done according to our inspiration, just open your heart. If someone tells nicer words, does this person receive what is needed? No, we are all equally capable of asking, as well as of receiving. It is the law of abundance and the merit. We only need to know how to ask with faith, and to thank. The rest is made by your angels and the universe.

I wish, with all my heart, this textbook to be your accomplice and guide.

Difference between ritual and ceremony

Ritual: is one or several actions performed mainly for its symbolic value; it may be religious, personal or energetic.

Ceremony: is an act performed according to certain laws or customs. The ceremony is always religious or energetic (magic).

Angelic rituals: the rituals allow us to make contact with the angels, every time we think it is necessary. We achieve this through invocations and practices, which call angels to come to the Earth in order to ask them for a specific thing.

Elements always to be on the altar or in a ritual: colored candles, bell, and incenses.

The Tibetan bell

The bell is a resounding object which has been used for the man to communicate from long distances, thus, it is symbolically said that it helps us to call our masters or angels. Its resounding manifestations enter into our physical and energetic bodies, relaxing us, projecting its sounds, and opening an inner communication with our spiritual guides.

Its use is recommended because of the high vibration and crystal sound. This melody can be useful to open energy fields.

The true meaning of the Tibetan bell, which Buddhists have known for centuries, is hardly told in the West. It represents the female principle as the “perfection of wisdom.” It has an inverted cup shape, and the cup (the chalice) is an allegory of feminine, of the universal uterus, creator of life, strength and energy.

Incense

The incense purifies the air; it helps us to set ourselves free from negative vibrations, to awake the consciousness, and to improve our mood.

Below is a list of the most popular aromas and their qualities:

Sandalwood: Especially for people looking for protection and good luck. Physically, it is great for filling with energy and vitality.

Lavender: It is great for creating a peaceful mood, and for relaxing while revitalizing and purifying.

Candles

The colors of the candles are very important, because each color attracts a different kind of energy.

Interpretation of the colors of the candles

According to our mood, request, gratitude, our intention, the meaning of the colors will help us to choose the right one for the candle we are going to lit.

Blue light: Provides us with calm and melancholy; it is the color of nostalgia and desire.

Orange light: It refers to pure vital energy, to giving oneself to life, to youth, and to health.

Yellow light: It is related to the greatest source of life, the sun.

Grey light: It is the color of the transition, the middle term between two ends, white and black.

Green light: It symbolizes nature abundance, the plants oxygen, and the rebirth of life.

Purple light: It is idealism, dignity, power, and wisdom.

Red light: It symbolizes the blood, the vital humor, the strength, and the life.

Pink light: It is the love of heart, sensuality and full commitment.

Violet light: It is inspiration, mysticism, enchantment, and inner transformation.

White light: It represents purity, grace, innocence, and our own light.

Black: It is absence of light; it is a protector, but it is not recommended for positive and pure rituals.

Mantra

The word “mantra” comes from the Sanskrit words “man” (mind) and “tra” (free). A mantra is a resounding vibration which helps us to clear our minds from nightmares and anxieties, and to have clearer thoughts.

How is it used?

By pronouncing it out loud in a rhythmic and repetitive form. It is important to relate the vibration with the voice tone of each person has, and the right one for each. It must be taken into account that: the “a” is pronounced as “ah”, and “m” is pronounced as “mng.”

Mudra

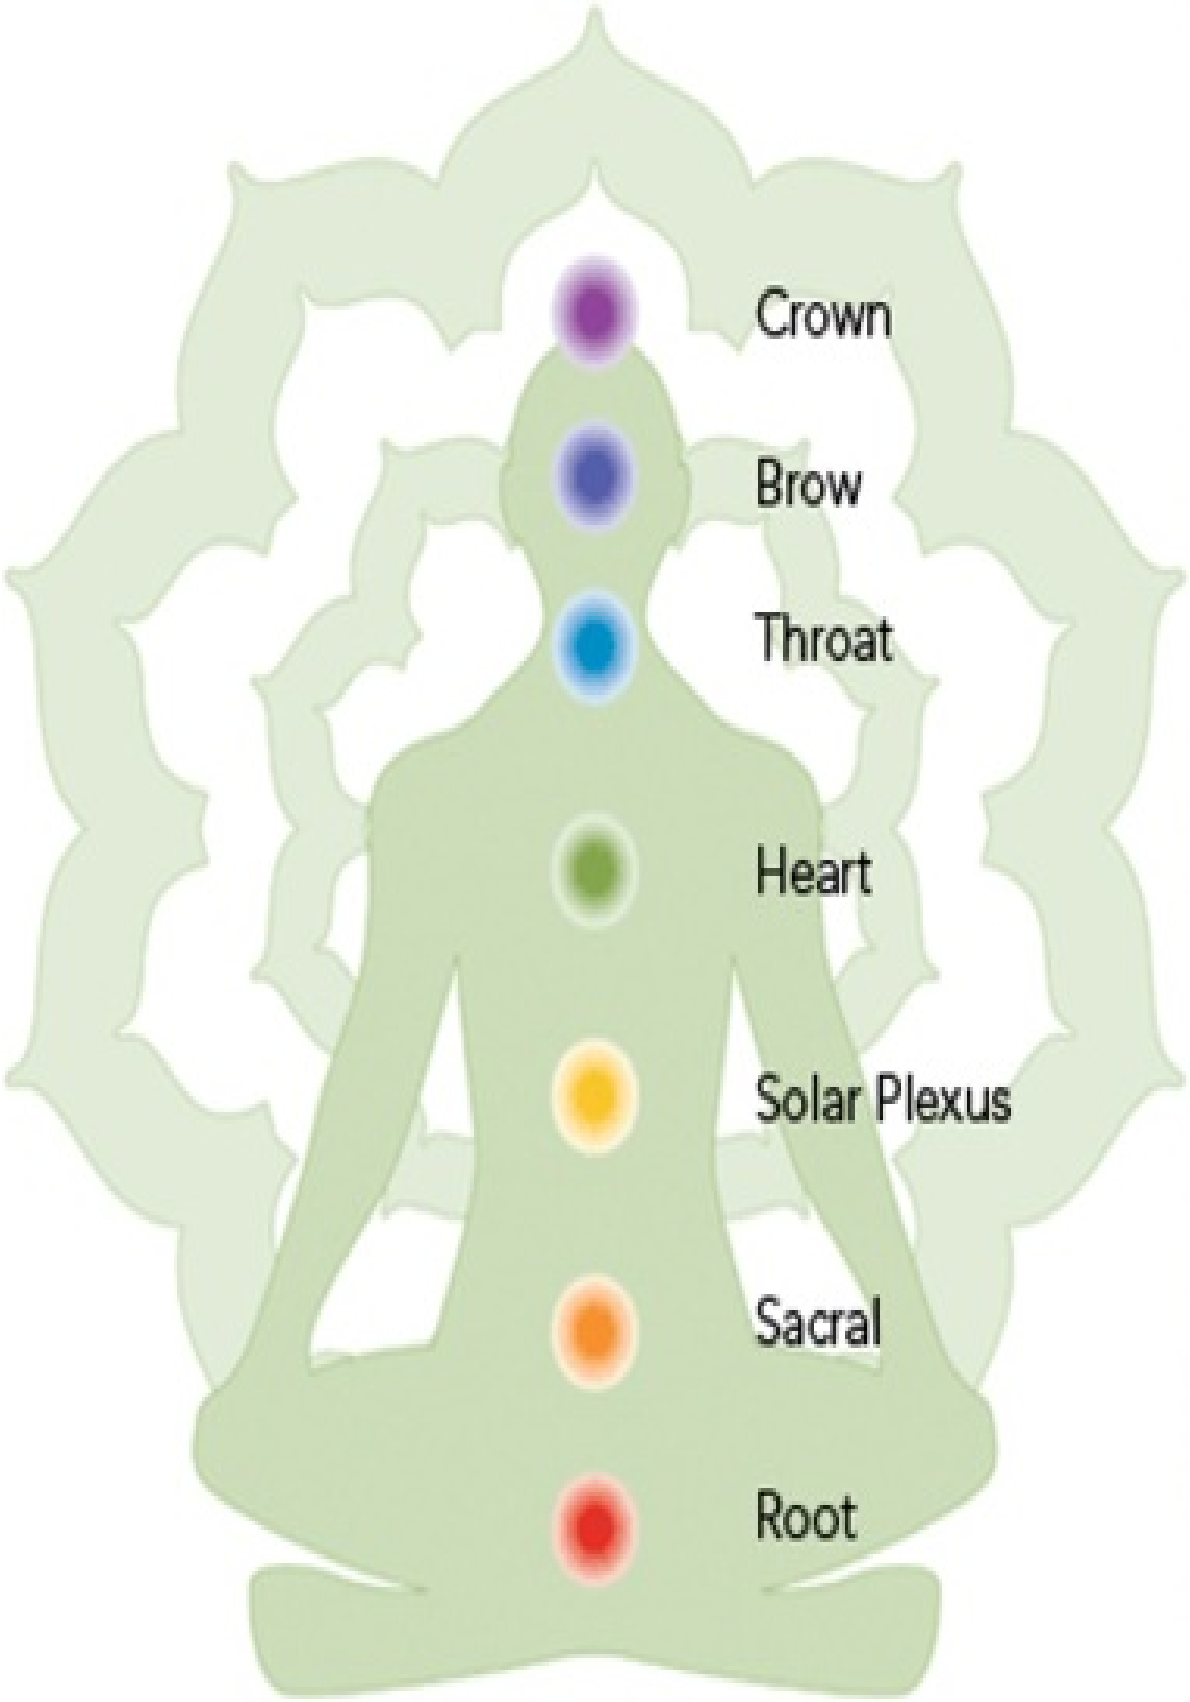
It is the position produced with the fingers to open or close energy circuits. The mudra helps to harmonize, and to enter a deepest level when relaxing or meditating. We normally use one when we pray, placing our palms together at chest height. Metaphysics call it “mudra of love.”

The best position to sit when using these mudras is on the floor with the legs crossed, although this posture is not mandatory.

Chakra

Chakra means “wheel.” There are seven main chakras and other supporting ones. Each of them is associated with the endocrine glands of our physical body, and it is in charge of regulating our energy for us to be healthy. If one or several of our chakras are in disharmony, we will surely have problems for expressing our feelings related to each of these chakras.

The seven main chakras of our body



Crown
Brow
Throat
Heart
Solar Plexus
Sacral
Root

Root Chakra: It is related to the instinct, the safety, the survival, and the basic human potential. It is located on the base of the spine. Red color.

Sacral Chakra: It is related to sexuality and creativity. It is located under the navel. Orange color.

Solar Plexus Chakra: It is related to the energy, the willpower, the assimilation, and the digestion. It is placed five fingers up the navel, under the chest. Yellow color.

Heart Chakra: It is related to the emotion, compassion, love, equilibrium, and welfare. It is placed in the center of the chest. Green color.

Throat Chakra: It is related to communication and growth, being this last one a way of expressing. It is located in the throat. Blue color.

Brow Chakra: This is the chakra of time, perception, and light. It is placed in the space between the eyebrows. Indigo or dark blue color.

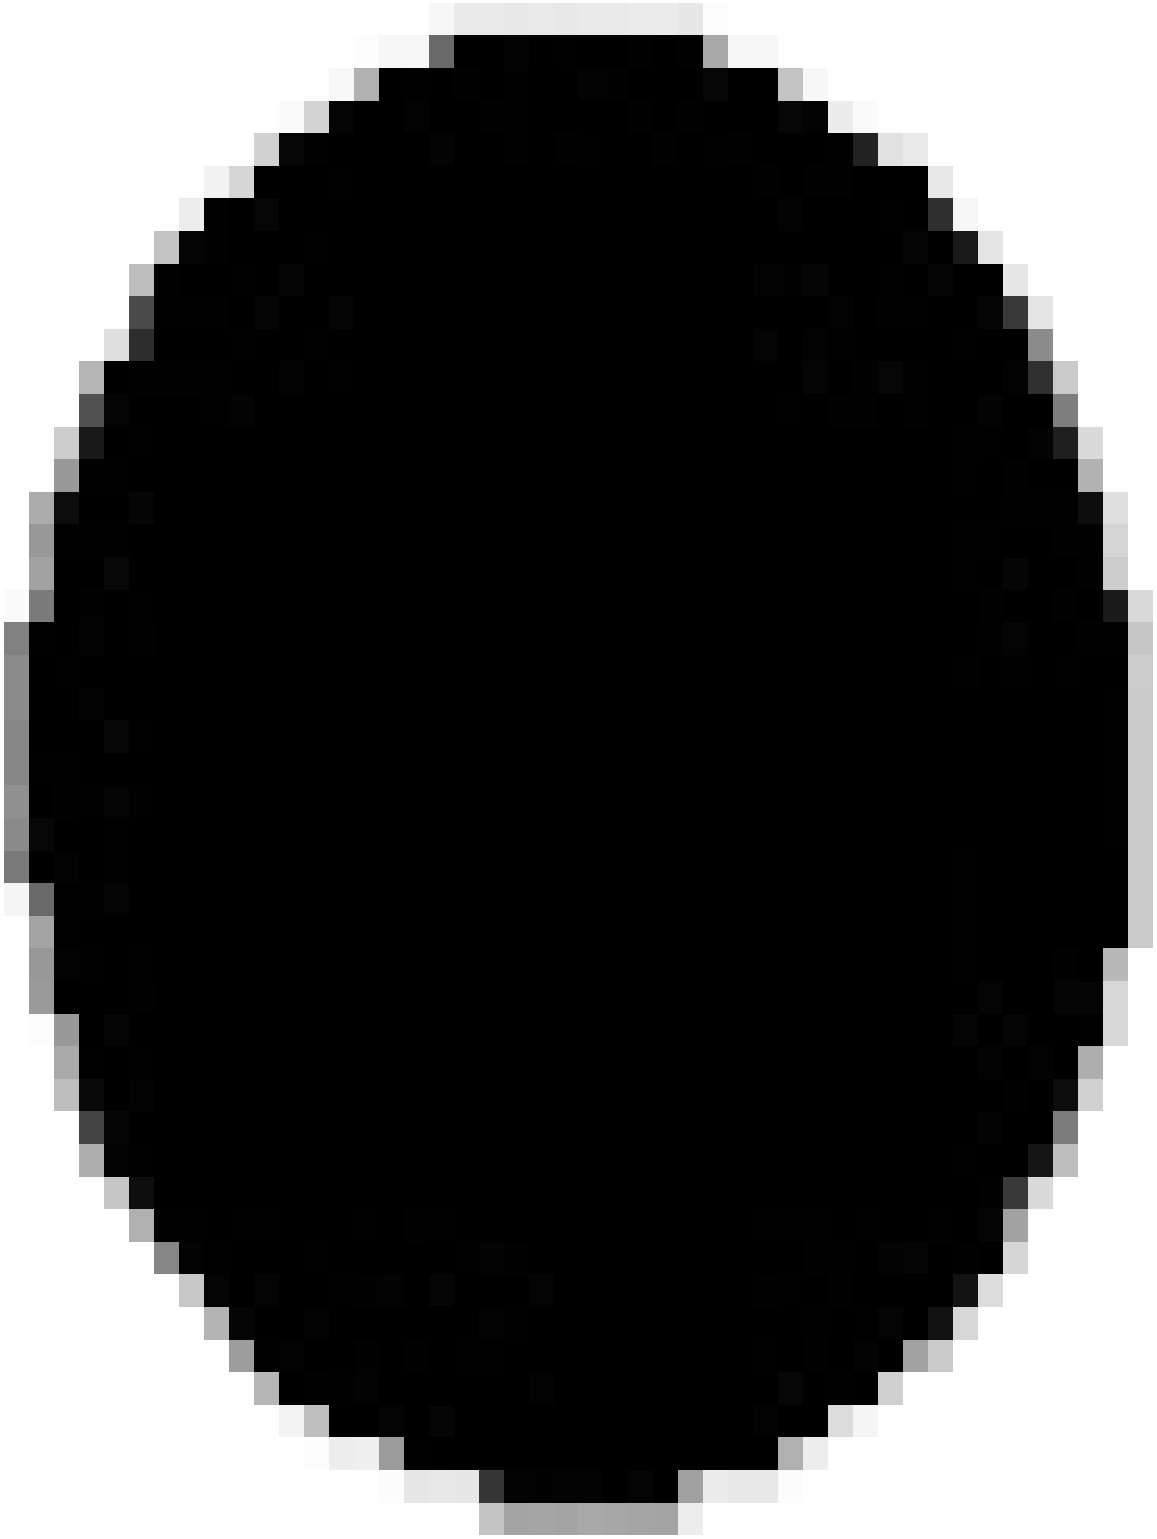
Crown Chakra: This is the master chakra controlling the rest. It is placed on the crown of the head. Violet color.

The power of the moon

Since ancestral times, the Moon has been more than a latent star.

Many farmers still let the phases of the Moon guide them to sow and harvest. Some beliefs have led scientists to perform a series of studies as regards how the Moon influences nature. It has been proved that the tide changes according to the Moon phase, and that there are changes on the atmospheric pressure and fluctuations in the magnetic field. It has been even observed that it affects the metabolic processes of living organisms and the human behavior.

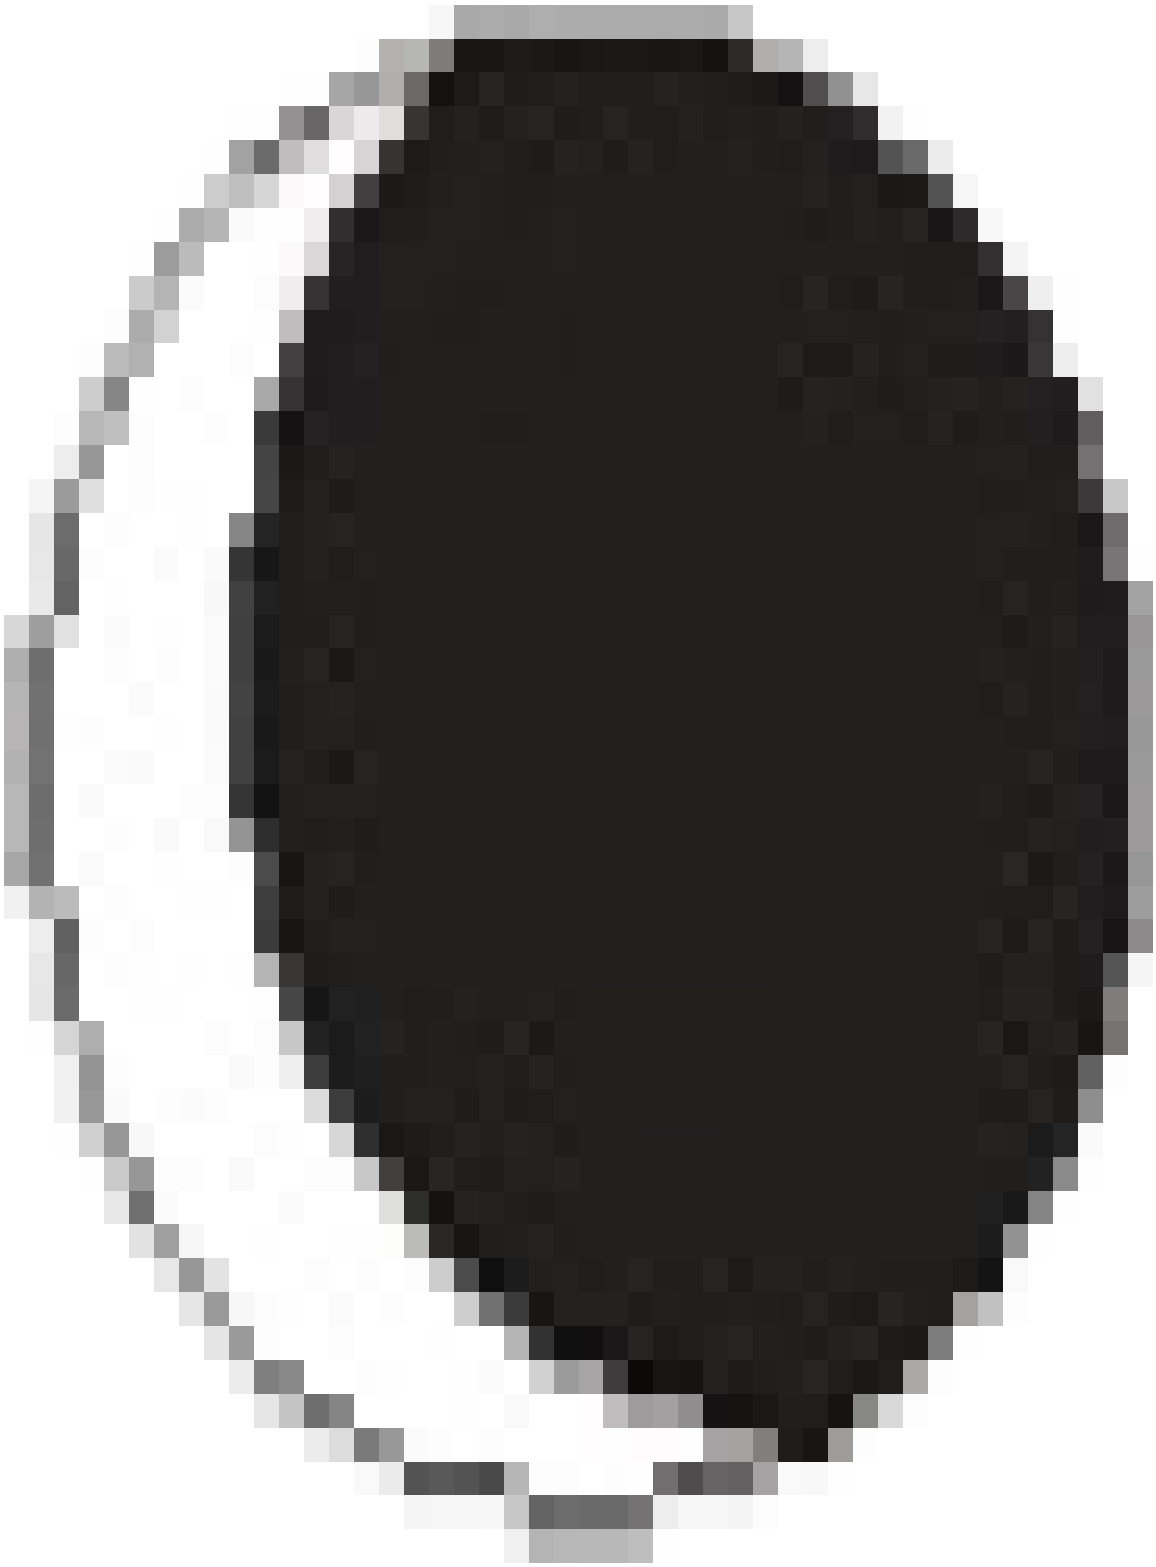
New moon



It is considered to be a stage of growth, progress, and abundance. It is positive for the following purposes:

- Working in love prosperity.
- Getting beauty treatments.
- Seeking employment.
- Asking for a raise.
- Submitting for a bank loan.
- Starting a treatment.
- Eliminating toxic substances faster (for this, it is suggested to fast for one day during this phase).
- Getting rid of a bad custom or habits.
- As regards nature, pruning of sick trees during this phase helps to recover them.

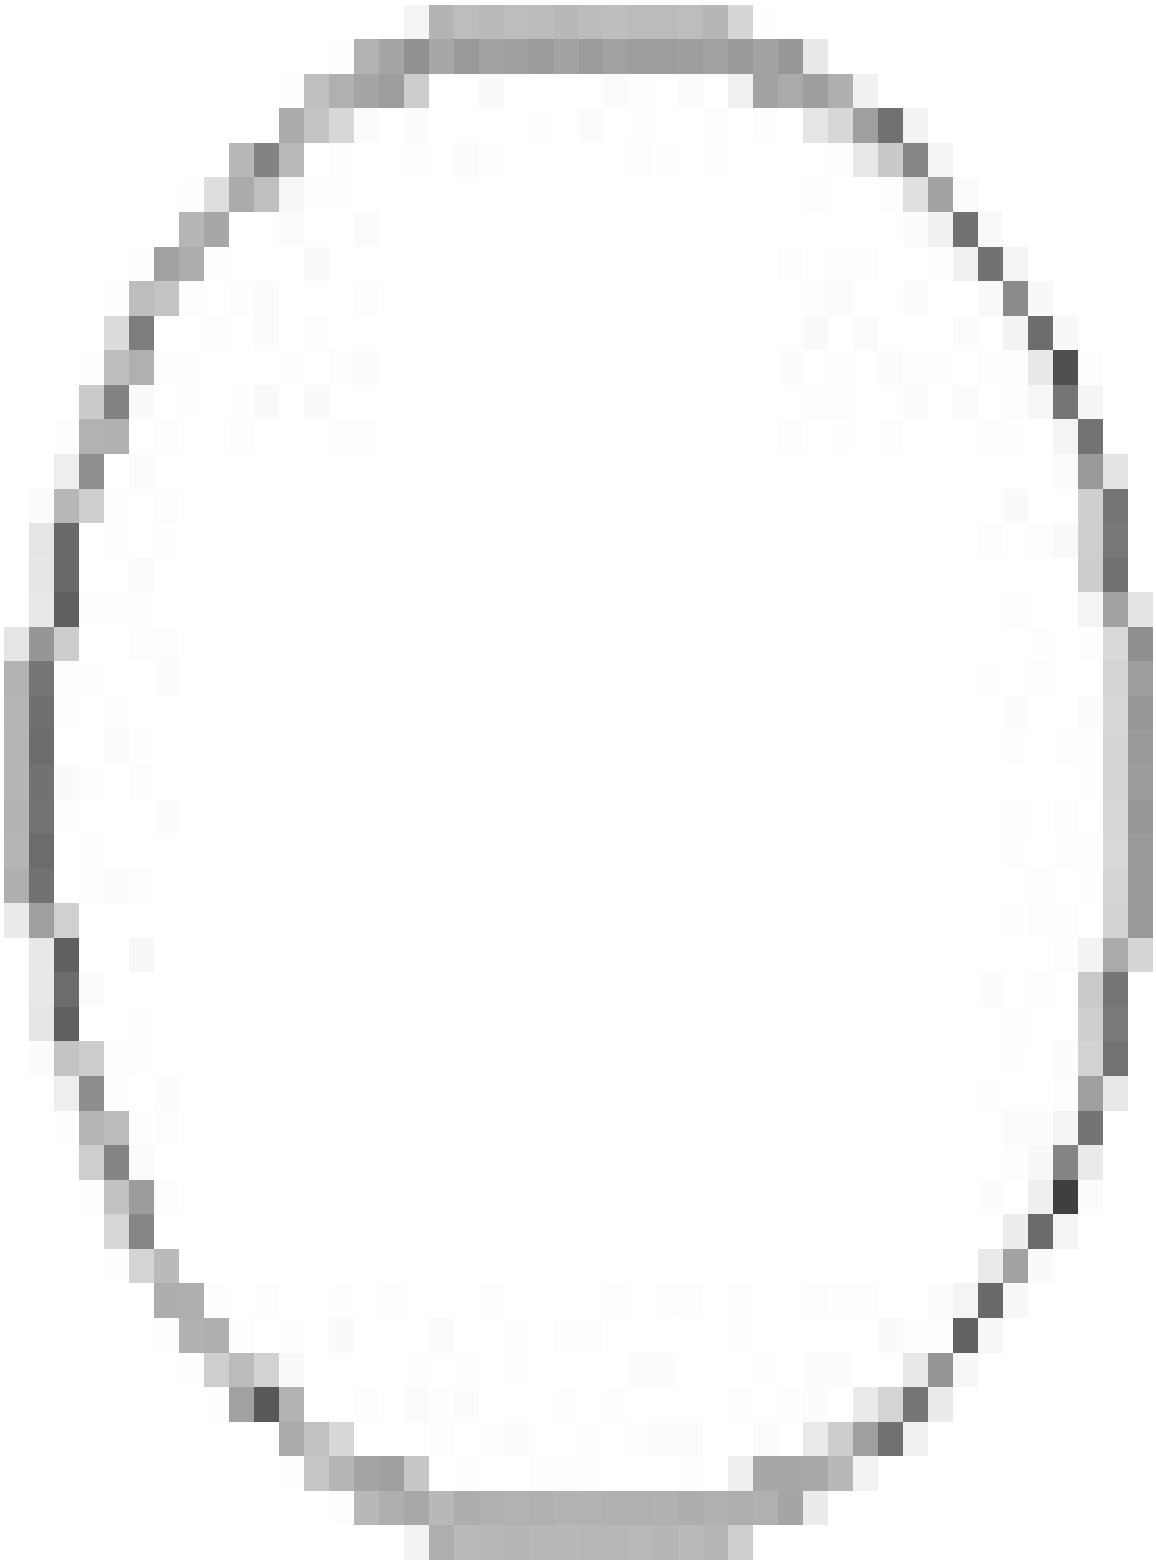
Crescent moon



It is considered to influence positively for achieving the following goals:

- Obtaining objects of value.
- Improving self-esteem.
- Strengthening bonds with friendships.
- Developing motivation.
- Practicing simple rituals, such as lighting a candle for an invocation, etc.

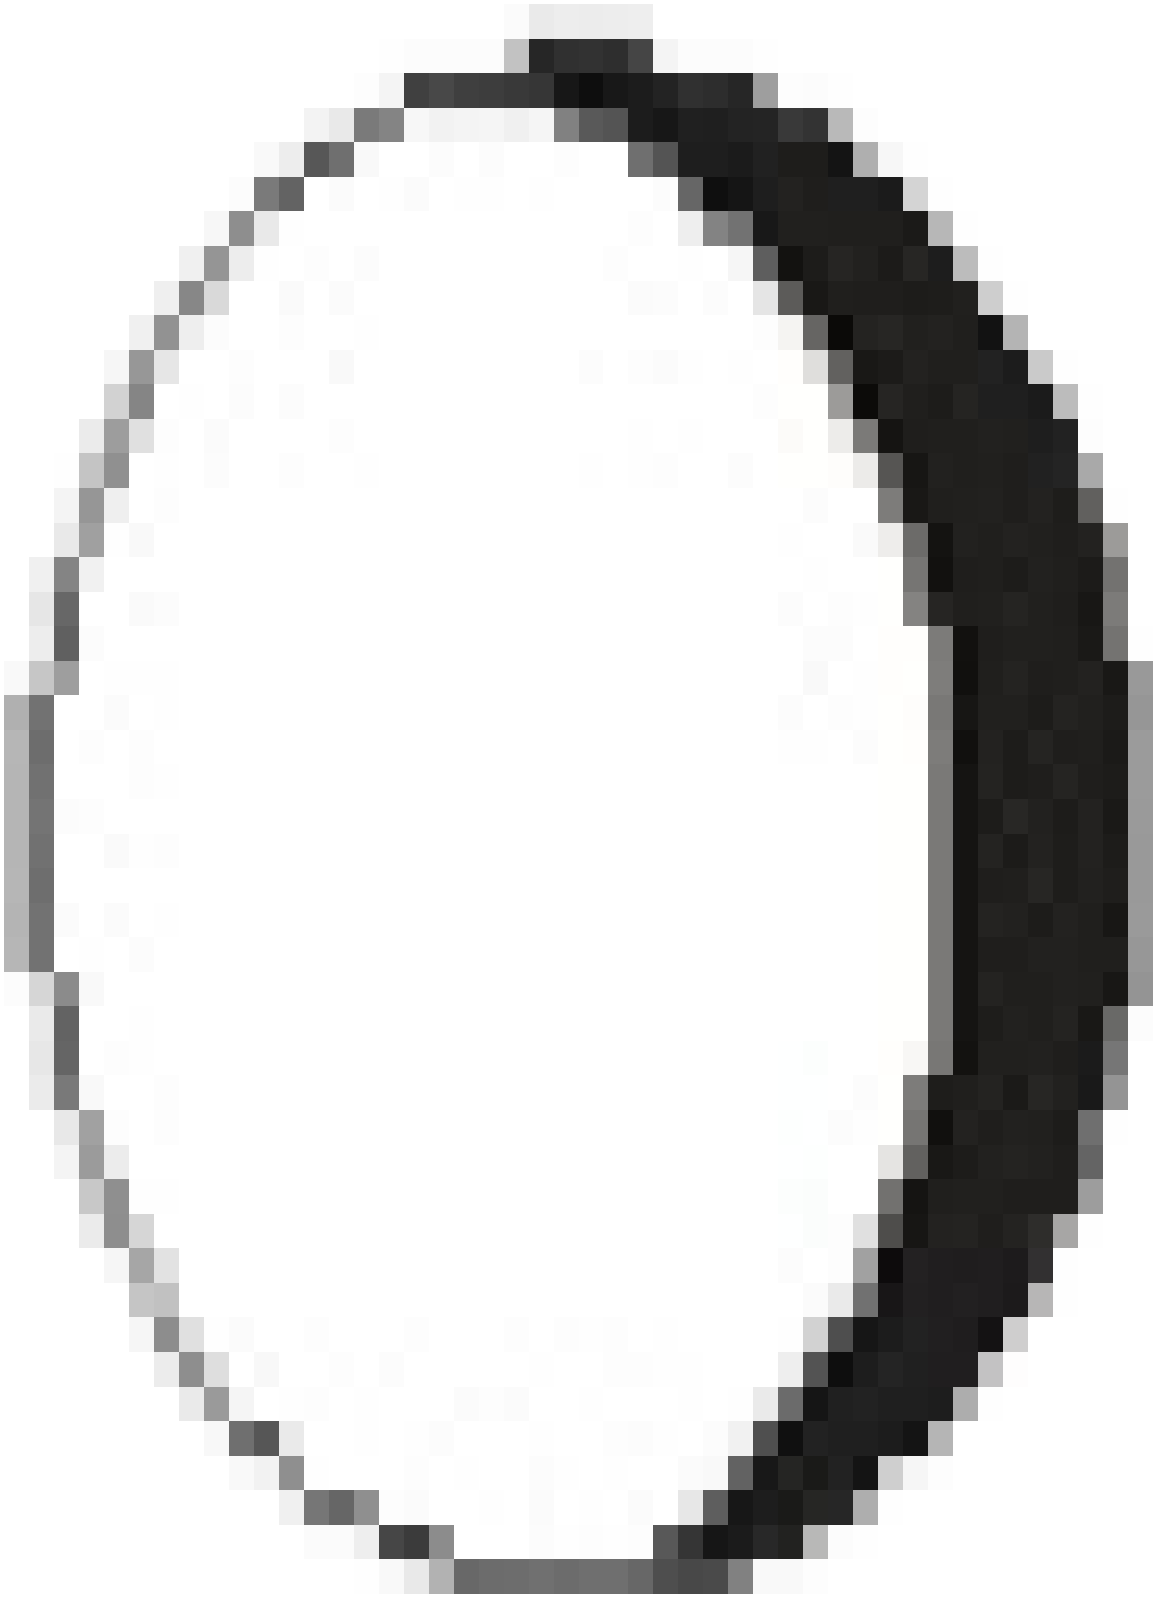
Full moon



It is the perfect moment for receiving any request. This phase is considered to be positive for the following intentions:

- Dealing with legal issues.
- Developing psychic abilities.
- Interpreting and paying attention to prophetic dreams.
- Attracting love and marriage.
- Conceiving a baby.
- Protect children.
- Participating and preparing artistic projects.
- Winning competitions.
- Submitting for a loan.
- Multiplying money or obtaining it by gambling.

Quarter moon



It is recommended to stay at home and work on meditations for relaxing. Since it is considered a disintegration phase, important decisions must not be taken. It is vital to protect against enemies.

The four elements

- Air: Its cardinal point is East. It is the rising Sun orientation.
- Fire: Its cardinal point is North.
- Water: It is located in the West.
- Earth: Its cardinal point is South.

Numbers and spirituality

Why some people say that a prayer must be said seven times? Why Amen is pronounced three times? What do numbers mean for spirituality?

All the numbers connect us with what God created some time ago, and that will remain forever the same.

Number 1: It represents the unit. One God, only one creator, one holy spirit.

Number 2: It represents the feminine and the masculine, existing as a principle of life in the universe. When an action is done twice, it complements.

Number 3: It represents the sacred symbol of perfection. It is the most sublime of all. It represents the Holy Trinity, and, on us, it is divided in spirit, soul and body.

Number 7: This number favors and improves any request. This is the number of regeneration: every seven years we change our body cells; Saturday is the seventh day which symbolizes the rest, the union and the forgiveness.

Number 9: It is the angelic number. It represents the nine angelic hierarchies.

Numeric sequence of angels

Angels do their best to call our attention and to communicate with us. When you listen the same song repeatedly, or see the same numeric sequence, who do you think it is behind all of this? Your angels, of course!

Your angels normally communicate their messages showing you number sequences. They do this in two ways: first, they whisper carefully to your ear for you to look just in time to notice the hour on the clock, or a telephone number on a board. The angels wait for you to realize you are looking at the same numeric sequence repeatedly. For instance, you can frequently see the sequence 111, and it seems like every time you look at the clock the time is 1:11 or 11:11.

Below, it is described the meaning of several numeric sequences by DoreenVirtue, Ph.D.

111: Watch carefully your thoughts and make sure you are only thinking on your wishes, not the things you do not want. This sequence is a signal which tells there is a chance opening and your thoughts are materializing very fast. 111 is like the flash of a brilliant light. It means that the universe has just taken a picture of your thoughts and it is materializing them. Are you pleased with the thoughts the universe has captured? If not, correct your thoughts, ask your angels for help to do it if you have problems with watching and controlling your thoughts.

222: Our recently set ideas are starting to come true. Keep watering and feeding them, and suddenly they will soon rise from the floor for you to see the evidence of your manifestation. In other words, do not give up five minutes before the miracle occurs. Your manifestation will soon become evident for you. So, keep making a good job, stay positive, and continue affirming and visualizing.

333: The ascended masters are around you, wishing you know you can count on their help, love and company. Call the ascended masters frequently, especially when you see patterns with number 3 around you. Some of the most famous ascended masters are Jesus, Moses, Maria, Quan Yin, and Yogananda.

444: The angels surround you at this moment, reassuring you their love and help. Do not worry about their help being close.

555: Fasten your seatbelt. A meaningful change is about to come in your life. This change must not be taken as “positive” or “negative”, since changes are simply part of the natural flow of life. This change may be the answer to your prayers, so keep visualizing and feeling in peace.

666: Your thoughts are not balanced now; you are really focused on the material world. This numeric sequence tells you to balance your thoughts between heaven and earth. Just like the famous “Sermon on the mount,” the angels ask you to focus on the spirit and the provision, and to know that, as a result of this new approach, your material and emotional needs will be immediately fulfilled.

777: The angels applaud you. Congratulations, you are in a good path. Keep making a good job and be sure your wish is coming true. This is a highly positive sign and it also means you can wait for many more miracles to come.

888: A phase of your life is about to end, and this is a signal to give time to prepare for it in advance. This numeric sequence may refer to an emotional race or a relationship phase resolving. It also means that there is light at the end of the road. Another additional meaning is that “the harvest is ready.” Do not wait to reap and enjoy. In other words, do not delay your actions or the joy of your work.

999: Culmination. This is the end of a great phase in your personal or general life. Besides, this is a message to all the lightworkers involved in the reorganization of the earth. It means “get to work because Mother Earth needs you right now.”

000: A reminder of you being one with God, and you feeling the presence of the creator´s love inside you. It is also a sign of a situation completing a whole cycle.

Stones and crystals

They have always been symbol of power, light, harmony, beauty, and wisdom. They are supposed to have healing effects.

Agate: Luck.

Amethyst: Energy; it provides relief in every anguish moment.

Rock crystal: A variety of crystalline quartz; it helps to organize thoughts, absorbs negativity, and provides strength and energy.

Rose quartz: Love; for its magnificent relaxing qualities, it is indicated for nervous diseases.

Sapphire quartz: It motivates lightness and tranquility.

Jade: Fortune.

Angels and archangels

The topic of angels has been extensively treated in religious councils. Thus, in this textbook we are not going to place angels in any religion.

Islamism, Judaism, and Catholicism, the three most important religions so far, talk about them.

Jewish possess cabala, which is one of the richest source of angelic wisdom. The first Sumerian, Persian, Egyptian, and Indian documents recognize the existence of winged beings who were messengers of the gods.

Hindu call them devas (beings of light). Devas assist nature as angels human beings.

Greeks call them diamonds (geniuses). Gnostics consider that angels are not spirits, but extension of God. Protestants do not pray to them, they accept their existence though.

There is no culture denying the existence of these marvelous beings of light.

Are angels a trend?

Angels are not a trend, they have always existed. What happens in this times of great changes is that the man feels that nothing fulfills him, that he suffers from lack of something, he has an emptiness, he is hungry and thirsty; hunger of word and thirst of spirituality.

The aim of reaching them is to motivate the spiritual development by believing and learning that there is something else beyond our sight, beyond what we touch, which is energy and spirituality. In times like these, angels are closer from us, because of the change in our consciousness, and because they want to help the man on his deep inner transformation.

Angel: It means “messenger.” They are pure, immortal, free of boundaries, free of space and time. It is said that angels were created by God the second day. Angels are asexual, they are winged beings. They are light and energy themselves, similar to the one surrounding human beings (aura). The angel´s great energy field can be seen as wings, that is why they are drawn with wings. They act as a bridge between heaven and earth, being a channel or mail between God and the world (Man).

We really do not know how many angels there are, we know the 72 angels from the cabala, from the three choirs of angels, from the seven archangels, and from the Archangel Metatron and his twin brother, Sandalphon.

ARCHANGEL METATRON

He is considered the greatest of the angels, since he possesses the higher vibration among the archangels. According to the mystical Jewish, Metatron reached the highest range in the angelic hierarchy. That is the reason of his name, “the one who sits on next to the divine throne.”

He supervises and writes over every act of ours in the Book of Life. He is in charge of supporting life and human acts as bridge between divinity and humanity. He is known as “Supreme angel of death” who daily receives God´s orders about the souls which have to be conducted to heaven. After performing this action, many times delegated to his subordinated, Archangel Gabriel or Archangel Michael, Metatron receives spirits in paradise, and he is particularly protector, guide, and master of children who died too early, or at a young age.

It is said that he is Sandalfon´s twin brother, who reigns the Earth and the tenth sphere. Both are the only humans who transcended to become archangels.

Metatron focuses on universal love, perfect awareness, opening the conscious doors, calm, connecting with the proper divinity. His energy is subtle and purifying, because he is pure universal love.

Metatron is in the first sphere of the three of life.

Help us to calm our spirits.

Angel Metatron, keep me always confident

And with faith in my ideals.

Angel Metatron, you who write in the book of life,

Whichever could affect me.

To give me strength to continue and defeat,

Always in the name of truth,

Illuminate me always in all my roads,

For me to live in peace and

For me to serve with love.

Thanks, so be it!

How to invoke archangels

with a mantra

There is a great variety of mantras, such us angels´ invocation for love, money, health, etc. as we all know everything in the earthly and in the celestial world have energy; thus, they have a vibration. If we are pronouncing a mantra of love, we will be producing a vibration of love in our soul, which will show that feeling, not only to us, but also to the others.

- Harmonization with Archangel Michael

We will proceed to perform a relaxation exercise, three deep breaths and three exhalations. We will imagine a ray of violet light coming from the horizon towards our solar plexus (navel area). To open our connection circle, we will say our full name and pronounce 23 times the word “MIKAL” (in the following way: “MIIIIIKAAAAAALLLLLLLL;” we have to accent the “KA” syllable with more intensity). After finishing that number of pronunciations of Archangel Michael´s chant, we will mention our name again to close the connection circle.

- Harmonization with Archangel Gabriel

We will proceed to perform the relaxation process mentioned before. We will imagine a turquoise ray of light coming from the horizon towards our solar plexus (navel area). To open our connection circle, we will say our full name and pronounce 12 times the word “GEBER” (in the following way: “GGGGEEEEEBBBBBEEEEERRRR;” we have to accent the first “E” with more intensity). After finishing that number of pronunciations of Archangel Gabriel´s chant, we will mention our name again to close the connection circle.

- Harmonization with Archangel Raphael

After performing the breathing exercise, previously explained, we will channel the green ray of light coming from the horizon towards the solar plexus. We will say our name to open the connection circle, and we will repeat 17 times the word “RPAL” (in the following way: “RRRRPAAAAALLLLL;” we have to accent with more intensity the syllable “PA”). Once we have finished, we will pronounce our name to close the connection circle.

- Harmonization with Archangel Uriel

After performing the breathing exercise, previously explained, we will channel the yellow ray of light coming from the horizon towards our solar plexus. We will say our name to open the connection circle, and we will repeat 14 times the word “BRIAL” (in the following way: “BBBBBRRRRRIIIIAAAAALLLLLL;” we have to accent with more intensity the vowel “A”). Once we have finished, we will pronounce our name to close the connection circle.

- Harmonization with Archangel Zadquiel

After performing the breathing exercise, previously explained, we will channel the lilac ray of light coming from the horizon towards the solar plexus. We will say our name to open the connection circle, and we will repeat 13 times the word “GANDAR” (in the following way: “GAAAAANNNNDAAAARRRRR;” we have to accent with more intensity the syllable “DAR”). Once we have finished, we will pronounce our name to close the connection circle.

[How to invoke the angels' protection]

Angel´s invocation has no boundaries. You can call them every time you need them. You can invoke them when you need spiritual guide, preserve your health or your beloved´s, when you need protection, or if you have financial problems. They will lead you in a subtle way you will have to understand.

It does not matter which your religion is, you will always have the possibility to invoke the angelical protection without giving up or changing your beliefs at all.

What they can offer you is: peace, prosperity, healing, protection, company, and happiness.

Setting the room

Angels love rooms which are clean, calm, lightly perfumed, and with nice music.

It is important for you to pronounce the word "invoke." Just as the act of promising is performed by saying "I promise," the act of invoking is performed by saying "I invoke." If you invoke Archangel Michael, for instance, invocation will have to be as follows:

"Archangel Michael, I invoke you [name of the angel, mention of the verb invoke]. I, [pronounce your name], call you by my side to ask you for your valuable help."

“I call you, Archangel Michael, because you are a being of light and only you can fulfill my needs.”

The request must be clear, specific, and in a positive way, not negative. For instance,

“I ask you to grant me financial abundance, love and health abundance, etc.”

Never say: “I ask you I do not lack money.”

The request being sent must be finished with the words:

“So be it, if it is good for me and the universe. Thanks, thanks, thanks.”

Receiving the angelic message

After making the request, you must wait for the proper time to receive the angelic message. The most common ways are:

Written: Take a notebook or your angelic journal, and write what you want to ask or what you want to know, for example, “Why am I having problems at work?” Relax, write, or draw what your heart tells you, just flow.

Inner dialogue: After reading what you wrote or visualizing the “drawing” answer, you will hear some words coming from inside you, as if your conscience voice was talking to you.

Dreams: Although the angels use to suddenly appear while sleeping, you can also invoke them to be there. The images are clear and direct. In other words, what you “see” while sleeping is a faithful representation of reality (past, present or future).

Numbers

Appreciation

Do not forget to thank the angel you invoked with simple and direct words. For example, “I thank you, Archangel Michael, for your presence in my life, and for your goodwill towards my request.”

- To maintain or improve our health or someone else´s:

Hahahel, Mikael, Nemamiah or Habuiha, if it comes to a severe or terminal disease.

Jeliel, if it comes to a mild or treatable disease.

Sitael or Elemiah, if it comes to the suspect or fear to an unconfirmed disease.

- To fill your home with positive energy:

Rituals and ways of connecting to our angel

The four golden keys (essential steps) when requesting:

1. Asking the creator, time and space owner for permission.
2. Invoking the desired archangel with faith.
3. Making the request and sending it to the Universe.
4. Appreciating.

Ritual for working with the archangels

The archangels are commended to help men. Each archangel has a mission and a specific color.

First, you choose who can fulfill your needs, according to the day of the week, the color or who you feel more connected to.

Once you have chosen the archangel you feel identified with, buy 3 colored candles from the archangel color. Write him a letter asking for the help you need, such as job, health, love, etc.

Sample letter:

Dear Archangel _____,

Through this letter I want to contact you to ask your assistance in _____.

Everything I ask, I do it respecting the divine order for the perfect harmony and welfare of the universe. If any of the things that I am asking for is not within the divine order please let me know by signals I can understand, and which provide me with nothing but the proper

I deeply appreciate your love.

[Sign]

When the letter is ready, light the candle and read the letter aloud. After this, place it under the candle until it fades away. This must be done for seven consecutive weeks. If what you need is urgent, ask for God´s and the universe permission, and do it for seven consecutive days. When you finish the seven candles, burn the letter and thank the universe.

With the psalms:

As we have every archangels´ psalms, the day of the archangel who is in charge of what we need, we light a candle according to his color, we buy some flowers the same color, and we read the psalm. To thank, we can just light the candle of each archangel on his corresponding day.

With the mantras:

We already know what the mantra is and what a mudra is. Think on the archangel you want to invoke and light a candle. If you have incense, it is much better. Sit on the meditation posture or, at least, relaxed, and pronounce the mantra as indicated.

We must be constant at everything, and even more if we want to feel our angelic beings. Do not intend to contact archangels if you are one of those people who practice one day and then two months later. That is not how life works.

Angels, mantras and chakras

At the beginning of this textbook we have the function for each chakra. If we notice that we are insecure, that we have to ask everybody before making a decision, then something must not be working properly with our base chakra.

So, we have to look for the angel related to the chakra we want to activate, the candle with his color, and if we can do it the corresponding day, it will be even better. Before starting, light the candle and the incense, talk to the archangel and ask him what you want to achieve with your own words. Tell him what you need. You must be in a relaxed position, breathing slowly and repeating the mantra for the chakra you are opening. You can sing the sounds 3 or 4 times every time you breathe.

Remember you must use the mantra for the corresponding chakra.

You can be sure the archangel will help you activate the chakra you need. When it is over, you must always thank and believe your archangel is doing his job.
